Dear Freddie

I had to write to express our utter amazement at the absolutely fabulous display you put on for our wedding. You certainly live up to your name!

I had not originally planned to have fireworks at all, as I (wrongly) thought that a decent display would be too expensive. As it turned out, it was the highlight of the whole day!

All the guests were just blown away by the sheer scale of it, most thinking that it must have cost an absolute fortune. As it carried on and on, one fantastic effect after another, I even began to wonder myself if you had misheard me and added an extra zero to the budget!

The display is still the talk of the village and has been compared with the annual Guy Fawkes event that costs several thousands of pounds.

I have been asked by many people for your number ever since - one good friend of mine went away trying to think of an excuse to have a party so he could get you to do the fireworks!

Thank you once again for making the day so memorable.

With kind regards

Yours sincerely

Stephen Carter
